A Duel Averted

"The man who stole that fiddle is a liar, and I can whip him!" an grily exclaimed a man from Fourche mountains, approaching a body of men and regarding them curiously.
"I came to town this mornin' an' some fellow's stole my fiddle. That man who done it is a liar."

"What sort of a fiddle was it"" asked a man whose skin looked as though he had just returned from swamp lever.

"Why, it was a first class instrument with fine rattlesnake rattles on the inside." "Where did you get it"

"I bought it from old man Bigby He made it, an' any man who stole it is a liar, an' I can whip hum."

"See here, mister, maybe the man that stole it is not a liar, and maybe you can't whip him." "Yes, he is a liar, an' I can whip any man what would steal a fiddle of that make." "Now, you're puttin' it too broad, my tather stole a fiddle from old Bigley ten years ago. Do you mean that you can whip him." "Are you certain that he stole a fiddle from the old man?"

"Then, what I say goes." Just then a man weighing about two hundred pounds pulled of his oat and said "I'm your father, ain't I, John"

"Yes," John replied,
"I stole that fiddle. I never told he in my life, an' I don't recollect that anybody ever whipped me.' He looked at the man whose fiddle had been stolen, and asked, "Am l a liar."

"Now, here, you fellers have misunderstood me. So, you stole a fid-dle from the old man, did you ""

"Well, I'd be much obleeged to you if you'd hook me one." Thus, you see, a bloody Arkansas duel was averted. The "Majah " point, makes the following clipping in He is up at seven o'clock, and before About twenty-five years ago there were two boys. There were also other poor boys at that time, but the story of these two boys is particularly worth telling. One was named Bill, and be was beginning to learn to be a telegraph operator in a railroad office on a plug road in Winconsin. The other boy we will call Al. and he was screwing brakes on the freight trains of a road in Illinois. Both were industrious, shrewd, honorable, energetic boys, and did their work as well as they knew how. They intended to work up to something better. They succeeded. Bill got to be a station agent, then agent for a larger road at a more important point, then Division Superintendent of another road, then General Superintendent of a great road running from Chicago westward. Then Boston capitalists, who were building a great line in the West, put him in charge of their immense operations. Al got to be a freight conductor, then passenger conductor, then Gen Eckert, of the Western Union a few years after General Superinten-he was astonished by being called off the train to become assistant to the Superintendent of the road on which Bill was dent; he was made Division Superistendent, and then a great company of the Pacific Coast tempted him over there at a very high salary, and placed ing system of lines. The other day Bill set out from the eastern end of his line in Kansas, to travel to its present southern end in New Mexico, a distance of 1,159 miles. About the same time Al set out from his home in San Francisco to travel over his line to the same point in New Mexico, a distance of 1,200 miles, and shortly Bill and Al will meet again and shake hands at tion of the second great transcontinental rankway line by the connection of the two roads of which they are the managers Bill is now known as W.

How they would have laughed when one was a telegraph operator and the other a freight brakeman if somebody had told them by the time they reached middle life they would be the managers of lines reaching from the Museouri river down to Mexico, across the Arizona desert, up through the sands of California to San Francisco, and thence westward over the Sierras to the great Salt Lake, This is the fact to-day, and, moreover, the great railways which they command have not by any means ceased growing, and these two men, still young, have not yet attained the summit of their eminence This is a good story for the boys to read. It shows what energy, and fidelity, and brains can accomplish in this Republic of infinite possibili-

grapher. Then he joins his family, has a chat with them for a few minutes, and is ready to greet the howling mob who are breaking their shins on the outside. At two o clock the President usually denies further interviews to the office-seekers, and at half past two takes his lunch with the family. Between three and four o'clock he reads the New York dailies. Usually between four and five some member of the Cabinet will drop in. Blaine calls in every day. At six o'clock the President dines, and spends the evening with his family, en tertaining such personal friends as call There are no Sunday night singing classes at the White House now. The President is a great lover of children He enjoys their company and loves to romp with them His oldest daughter, Mollie, is of that age when her lessons and her educational advancement require much attention. Her father takes deep interest in her welfare. So far Mrs. Garfield has made aplendid mistress of the White House Of course, everything is new to her, but she has the assistance of Mrs. Blaine, whose acquaintance is far reaching, and has an agreeable way of making people feel at home. The so-Mrs. Garfield are pleased with her. She has a sincere, pleasing way that she makes an impression Nor is she at all stuck up because she happens to be in the White House. Any of her old friends about Mentor who call will find that she is the same as when they call ed at the Lawofield farm. As to the mother, already a good deal of stock has been invested in her, and it uppre ciates day by day.

JAMES GORDON BENNETT is an aston isher. He is bound to make a sensa tion if he don't lay up a cent. His first great call for the world's applause was the munificent donation to the famine-stricken Irish, giving a fortune at a dash, then he amuzed the entire continent by becoming a suitor for the hand of the Princess Beatrice, the youngest daughter of Queen Victoria There is no testimony that his advances were encouraged, but James went for the girl with true American enterprise, on the theory that a citizen of the United States was the equal of a peer late West bound trains due Saturday of the realm. Now it is learned from atternoon from Chicago arrived at midthe Vienna papers that he has engaged night. At 10 o'clock Superintendent Strange, the waltzer, and an orchestra of exty performers, at a cost of about $30,000 a month, for his personal grat ifeation. WIND AND SNOW.

CHICAGO, March 19 -midnight,-Af fairs in the streets have gone on from bad to worse, on account of the storm, and at present the snow, which has been and at present the show, while morning, is beginning to come less heavily, and will probably cease falling entirely soon. The result of the day's storm is from six to eight inches of exceedingly compact snow, which is so solid that a pedestrian can walk on the top of it without per ceptibly reducing its height, the thermometer has been very "near but a trifle above the freezing point all ay, and is now slowly rising. Morning trains ar-rived very closely on time, but to-night there are serious delays on all the lines. All freight trains fare abandoned. The Northwestern road sent out only one train to Milwaukee and no others except suburbans. Illinois Central trains are slow, but running with some regularity. The wires being prostrated in nearly every direction, its impossible to learn the fate of trains which have gone out, and many of them may be blockaded only a few miles from the city. There has been an almost complete stopping of travel and traffic, and to-night not a street-car is running in the city, snow is will depend upon the quest piled upon and between car tracks and an extra is or is not called ' the sidewalks so high and firmly that it is ampossible to crowd the snow back from the tracks. It is a problem of vital interest to the citizens how long the present state of affairs is to continue. Nothing but a heavy rain or warm weather will afford a speedy relief from ciety people in this city, who have met the embarge, and there would be a flood if elther of these came about

MILWAUKEE, WIS, March 19,-The storm to-day was the worst of the entire Beason A very high wind prevails, and the snow is very heavy. All the railroad trains are blockaded, and street-car lines and business generally suspended. MILWAUKEL, March 20.-The storm is over, but everything blocked. Trains will not be running before to morrow. (GENEVA, ILL., March 19 .- The trial of William Thomas and Clarence Woodruff, the alleged murderers of Mr. Allen, of Sandwich, De Kalb county, came to a close yesterday, the jury finding Thomas guilts, and fixing his sentence at seventuen years in the penitentiary. Woodruff was acquitted. The trial was commenced three weeks ago, and would have ended sooner but for serious delays caused by the recent snow blockade The counsel for Thomas made a motion for a new trial, asking that judgment he suspended until the court can hear and decide the argument for a new trial The court (Judge Kellum) will hear the arguments March 28 The

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19,-The feeling to day is one of certainty that the President will call an extra session of congress, and it is easil very positively by those who ought to know that the only point remaining to be decided is the date when such session shall begin Secretary Blaine and Senator Conkling are both earnest advocates of such ex tra session, believing that it is demanded by the best interests of the country The President is said to be largely influenced by the representations of the Ohio delegation, that unless an extra

NEW YORK, March 21.—Henry Ward Beecher announced yesterday, says the Times, that the revival meetings of each afternoon and evening during the week would be continued, but evening service would be prayer instead of preaching. I desire to give notice, he continued, that I cannot attend to secular business at the close of these week-day services, and I might as well say right here, I have sold my interest in the navy yard premises, in the New York custom house, in the New York and Brooklyn postoffices, in the treasury department, save many a doctor bill Sold by all in the postoffice department, and almost and in large variety CHEAP STORE, every department at Washington, and a 15 d &wiw letter from me to those places will be of no use whatever Applicants will please take notice of these transfers of property. During the sermon Beecher said liberalism and national preaching were pleating ruffles, were fixing ruffled shirts, and putting cologne on men who were rotten within Il there is one The Great Snow Storm thing I consider thoroughly indecent continued Beecher, it is the way in which criminals are collected and car ried out of life when a murderer is be hanged. Women send flowers to him, and would kiss an ulcer for his sake Priests run to them and philanthropists hurry after them. He is going to die Are not 100,000 persons dying ail around, and there is nobody to run to them? There is no sympathy for them but if the monster is to air for a foul murder, the newspapers ted how he died trusting in Jesus Paugh! Paugh What muchief has that thief on the cross done! Can a man who has crept up to the gallows through the common sewers, at the last moment, just before the last effort to obtain pardon, sudden ly blossom out into a ferrent religiouife? An exchange makes the statement that Springfield is to be lighted by the Brush Electric Light Wabsah, Ind , a city of 10,000 inhabitants, is said to be brilliantly illuminated by four of the Brush lights placed on a steeple. Some of those faunitar with this new kind of light say that it is an entire sucress, and bound to come in general use sooner or later. Being much cheaper than gas, its introduction in the west will result in driving out gas monopolies The Decatur Edison Electru Light Company is yet inactive to all outward appearances but the members promise to introduce the new light as soon as they can get matters in shape to do so

And Gives the Little Papers All Over the State Something to Talk About.

This Time it Brings Gladucss to All Our Hearts

And We are Made to Sing Praises Unto Those Who are the Cause Thereof.

At eight o'clock this morning we noticed a crowd of men, women and children standing on the northrast corner of the Old Square, in front of Lam & Scruggs' old stand, now occupied by French Cutter, who has opened a I ASII-IONABLE MERCHANT TAI-IORING ESTABLISHMENT and CLOTHING EMPORIUM

Not thinking what could collect a crowd at this time of day, we stopped across and heard such exclamations

"Great Heavens! John, Jonk at that Suit, marked Ten Doll us only. It is, indeed, the cheapest I ever

"You are right, Bon Don't go faction in every case or money refunded any further. This is the place for us to buy "

" Do you see they have everything marked in plain figure that means, Fair and Square Dealing

As we stepped in the large room we were astonished to see such a Large Stock of New Goods We found Vigdor and Stommel busy waiting on Customers for Suit, of which they have an endless variety On the left, Mr. Driesbach supplying Customers with HATS, CAPS, FINE HOSIERY, Da.

In the center of the room is the BOYS' and CHILDREN'S DE-PARTMENT In this line especially it surpasses anything we ever saw, as the assortment cannot be equaled in [prices and_selection.

Woody Gibbs is the affable young man attending to the little folks.
